Forecast For East of England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Sunday 26 Dec 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Outbreaks of rain gradually clearing. Becoming drier overnight. Locally chilly.

This Evening and Tonight:
Outbreaks of rain gradually clearing northeastwards this evening to leave a largely dry night, although with a lot of extensive low cloud, mist and hill fog. Turning locally chilly, especially in some rural spots. Light winds. Minimum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Monday:
Low cloud will be slow to lift. A further spell of rain is expected move northeast in the afternoon and evening, along with freshening winds. Less cold. Maximum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Tuesday, rather cloudy with showery rain, drier later. Dry start Wednesday, then a spell of heavy rain, becoming windy but milder. Thursday, windy but very mild, some further rain likely.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.